climbing holds

Features

MATERIAL

Please note that we are using Polyester () and Polyurethan () resin for our products. The big holds, volumes and boards are made with Polyurethan resin using a hollow back process for a lower weight. Most of the very small and thin holds such as screw-ons are made in solid PU that makes them stronger.

But note that some solid holds are available both in Polyurethan and in Polyester : the choice is yours then ! Regarding the colors, you can see a very little difference between the products made in these 2 different resins : the PU products are most of the time a bit lighter.

DUAL BOLT SYSTEM / SCREWS

All our bolt-on climbing holds feature a dual bolt washer that allows either M10 countersunk or cap head bolts to be used to fix the holds on your wall. The other purpose of this special washer is to create a more even stress distribution within the hold - thus increasing the force required to break the hold through the bolt. It is very efficient if you use an impact driver to bolt the hold !

All our bolt-on holds feature also a secondary fixing point where you can put a screw (the hold can't turn then), but some of them have got more than one screw hole meaning that you can fix them either with screws or with a central bolt. It is very well adapted for bouldering !

SAFETY SYSTEM

During the manufacture, all our holds over size M (Ø>5cm) are equipped with the « Safety » system : if a hold unlikely break in use, the safety system binds the broken pieces and prevents large parts of the hold falling.

STANDARDS AND QUALITY CONTROLS

Our holds conform the standard EN 12572-3. In the factory each hold is individually inspected and stamped with a traceable quality control stamp on the base of the hold along with the date of manufacture.

We also regularly test samples of holds during the production process to avoid any quality problem, and to maintain the highest possible quality level.

Boulder

We are very happy to show you our new Boulder Range ! After months of hard work, many sets are finally available. They are targetting Bouldering and Climbing Competitions. You will find here many many big shapes with pure style for an efficient setting. All sets are only available in PU. A lot more to come !
